

Nothing much is going on

Outside

It's all happening

Inside

Cars were left parked at houses and apartments while carparks at offices were empty as about a million workers in the Klang Valley worked from home to contain the spread of Covid-19.

> See reports on page 5

Staying indoors: (Clockwise from top) A worker cleaning an empty carpark in Jalan Persiaran KLCC, Kuala Lumpur; Nestle employee Diana Ligan sharing a room with her son Jayden Valentine while working from home in Bandar Tasik Selatan, Kuala Lumpur; and cars parked outside a PPR flat in Kuala Lumpur during working hours. — AZHAR MAHFOF, NORAFIFI EHSAN & LOW BOON TAT/The Star

